Annotation and Analysis historical texts -1-

- Heterogenous data (several historical stages of language)
- Big variations in morphology, syntax. ( long time no standardization)
- Linguistic features (thus annotation-features) change over time – diachronic corpus
- Semantics and ontological space changed over time
- Not enough material for training

Annotation and Analysis historical texts -2-

- Multilinguality:
  - Across documents
  - Within one document: (Latin, Greek or other language)
- Not all necessary material is accessible and processable in digital form
- Great challenge with NEs (places, names, date)
- How to treat the vagueness-feature of the language:
  - For the moment it is ignored
  - Implication: unreliaables (up to wrong) analysis .
- Multilevel annotation & discontinuous phenomena
- Complex – representation -> big data ?

User requests and Challenges for the annotation

- Automatic transcription
- Synchronisation between original and transcription during the annotation
- CoOrrection of the text during the annotation (while kkeeping the annotation)
- Controlled automatic Annotation:
  - Tokenising
  - Change of the text
  - Linguistic Annotation
  - Sentence Annotation
  - NE-Annotation
- Possibility of very flexible text divisions (not necessary hierarchical)
- Multilevel annotation (flexible change of annotation level)
- Approx. 30 linguistic categories (PoS)(e.g. Number following 3 categories : Nature, Pattern and Syntax)
- User-friendly GUI
- Possibility of adapting the system for other scripts and transcriptions

GeTa Tool

Features

- Easy to use GUI
- Automatic initial transcription (vocalized or unvocalized)
- Synchronisation between original and transcription
- Controlled changes on text while annotating possible
- Controlled semi-automatic:
  - tokenization,
  - change of the transcripts text,
  - deep linguistic annotation + link to lexicon
  - Name Entity annotation linked with the authority DB.
- Automatic „sentence“ recognition
- Visualisation of data model
- Visualisation of annotation progress
- Can read additionally Classical Ethiopic inscriptions written with South Arabic script

Dimitrie Cantemir (1673 -1723)

- Prince of Moldavia (historical province) as well as „universal“ humanist (linguist, ethnographer, musicologist, historian, writer)
- As member of the Royal Academy in Berlin and at the request of this institution wrote two works :
  - Description of his own country („Descriptio Moldaviae“)
  - History of ottoman empire (History of Growth and Decay of Ottoman Empire)
- Original material written in Latin; Both originals were lost already by the end of 18th century
- Several copies were used as basis for translations into German, English, French, Russian and later in Romanian
- Sometimes the translation relies on other translation (e.g. first Romanian translation of “Descriptio Moldaviae” was done after the German version from 1774.

These translations used as reference information about the Ottoman Empire and Romanian provinces until the middle of 19th century, i.e. they give an idea about the reception about this part of the world in Western Europe.

„Nu îndrăznim să spunem ce e adevărat și ce e fals într-o asemenea întunecime a istoriei.“

(Dimitrie Cantemir, Descrierea stării Moldaviei în vechime și azi, translation Ioan Costa 2017)

„I do not dare to decide what is the truth about this matter, given the high darkness of this story“

Toată țara pe care o numim astăzi Moldova, precum și ținuturile învecinate dinspre asfințit, au fost stăpânite la început de sciți, care cuceriseră aproape trei părți ale lumii, cu toate că, după obiceiul lor strămoșesc, ei nu aveau așezări statornice. Pe lângă feluritele numiri date de hoardele care s-au perindat pe cursul vremii, grecii i-au numit pe locuitorii acestor ținuturi când geți, când daci. Sub stăpânirea romanilor s-a statornicit numirea de daci. După ce acest popor pierdu pe regele Decebal, biruit de viteazul Nerva Traian, și a fost parte nimicit, parte risipit încoace și încolo, întreaga țară pe care o locuia a fost prefăcută în provincie romană, pământul fiind împărțit cetățenilor romani, după care s-a deosebit în trei părți: marginașă, de mijloc și muntoasă. În cea dintâi se cuprindea o parte din Ungaria de astăzi și Valahia, în a doua Transilvania, iar în cea de pe urmă, cea mai mare parte a Moldovei noastre, așezată între Dunăre și Pрут, împreună cu ținuturile de la hotar ale Valahiei. În epoca următoare, când Imperiul roman a început să decadă, barbarii — și anume sarmații, hunii și goții — au pusit Moldova de mai multe ori și au silit pe coloniștii romani să fugă în munți, ca să caute loc de adăpost împotriva cruzimii lor, în partea muntoasă a Maramureșului. După ce au viețuit acolo câteva sute de ani, apărați ca într-o cetate naturală, cu voievozii și legile lor, deoarece populația s-a înmulțit peste măsură, Dragoș, un fiu al voievodului lor Bogdan, se hotărî în cele din urmă către anul () să cuteze un marș peste munți, spre răsărit, însoțit la început numai de trei sute de oameni, ca și cum ar pleca la vânatoare. Pe drum dădu din întâmplare peste un bou sălbatic, numit de moldoveni zimbru, și tot gonindu-l, ajunse la poalele munților. Când căteaua lui de vânatoare, căreia-i zicea Molda și pe care o iubea foarte mult, se repezi întârâtată asupra fiarei, bourul se azvârli într-un râu, unde săgețile îl uciseră; dar și căteaua, care sărise în apă după fiara fugărită, fu luată de undele repezi. Întru pomenirea acestei întâmplări, Dragoș fu cel dintâi care numi acest râu Moldova, iar locul unde se petrecuse ră acestea îi dădu numele de Roman, după numele seminției sale și luă ca stemă a noului său principat capul bourului. După aceea, când cercetă ținuturile învecinate și găsi câmpuri roditoare cu ape îmbelșugate, târguri, cetăți întărite, dar părăsite de locuitori, povesti alor săi despre ceea ce descoperise, îndemnându-i să pună stăpânire pe pământul acesta atât de roditor. Oamenii tineri din neamul lui Roman își urmară domnul de bunăvoie și, cu bucurie, trecură munții împreună cu el, în cete mari, așezându-se după aceea în ținuturile aflate într-un chip atât de minunat, iar pe Dragoș, cel care le aflase, îl numiră cel dintâi domn al țării noi. Întoarsă în acest chip stăpânitorilor de odinioară, țara își pierdu, odată cu legile trase din dreptul civil roman, și numele dacic și latinesc și atât străinii, cât și locuitorii ei înșiși îi ziseră Moldova, după apa Moldei. Dar nici această numire n-a rămas peste tot, căci turcii, care pătrundeau adesea cu oaste prin Moldova, către țările vecine ocupate de dâșii în Europa, au dat moldovenilor mai întâi numele de akvlach. Apoi, când Bogdan, după voia cea din urmă a tatălui său Ștefan cel Mare, le-a închinat țara turcii, obisnuți să numească țările supuse după numele domnitorilor, au început să-i zică Bogdan; totuși vechiul nume s-a păstrat în limba tătărească, vecinii din partea cealaltă
